

POSTMASTER GENERAL VILAS.

He is Defended by His Friends From the Aspersions of a Correspondent.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Certain friends of Postmaster General Vilas have dissented with some warmth from certain statements made by the Journal's correspondent here in regard to the demeanor of that official and his treatment of the general public. These dissatisfied Republicans, as well as Democrats, claim that Colonel Vilas could adopt no other course in his treatment of callers than the one he has pursued since his induction into office. It must be remembered, say these friends of the new Postmaster General, that, with the exception of the Interior Department, the Postoffice Department was the objective point aimed at by more "seekers" than any other under the Government; that the onslaught was made, not by hundreds, but by thousands; that if Colonel Vilas had admitted everybody at once into his ante-room and his own office would soon have become miniature pandemonium to the entire obstruction of public business for weeks following the inauguration. He could not do otherwise than he has done—admit his callers one by one and dispose of each case presented with as few words and in as brief a time as was possible. Those who called on Colonel Vilas all say that he received them in a courteous and gentlemanly manner, and no complaint has been heard from any one of them. The situation has been a very trying one, and Colonel Vilas, say his friends, has acquitted himself in such a manner as to secure the respect and esteem of all reasonable callers.

The Farmer's Heavy Debt.

A. Way, Navarro, N. Y., in 1879, was afflicted with neuralgia, ringing sensation in his ears, hacking cough, pain in the back, irregular urination, dropsy, nausea, and spasms of acute pain in the back. Then came chills and fever. The doctors gave him up, but after using twenty-two bottles of Warner's Safe Cure, he said: "I am hale, hearty and happy." On June 29, 1884, he writes: "My health was never better. I owe my existence to Warner's Safe Cure." Cure permanent.

Reynolds' Burge of News.

Special to the Sentinel.

REYNOLDS, April 1.—Hog cholera has broken out in several parts of this county. Paschal Carter, near this city, has lost several large fat hogs from that disease, and a number more are sick.

A. M. Fitch & Co. manufactured and shipped 19,870 pounds of tin during last month.

It is the intention of the Old Fellows of this city to make their anniversary celebration on the 20th inst. a grand and imposing affair.

The farmers of this county expect to plant a much larger area of melons and other spring crops this season than heretofore. This will be done to make up for the partial failure of the wheat crop.

The Township Trustees of the county met in convention at Brownstown yesterday to agree on rates of taxation pertaining to the listing of property.

Several new residences are going up in the city, and we will have a building boom as soon as good weather opens.

Wild turkeys are very numerous along White River near here now, and sportsmen are annoyed because they are not allowed to kill them "only in self-defense."

A number of our farmers are planting early potatoes, though the frost is not out of the ground yet.

Haven't You Felt Just So?

Isaac N. Wood, Fishkill, N. Y., July, 1884, wrote: "It is two years last spring since Warner's Safe Cure cured me. I was called a dead man, but that medicine brought me to life. I take a few bottles every spring to keep me right." He was afflicted for six years with pain in the back, ending in kidney hemorrhage. Cure permanent.

The Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 1.—The House this morning was in an uproar. After the reading of the minutes Speaker Haines arose and explained that as there had been dissatisfaction regarding the employees of the House he had come to the conclusion that the best thing he could do was to temporarily dismiss all of them appointed by him, and he did so.

This announcement fell like a bombshell among the employees and consternation reigned supreme among them.

Representative Keys offered a resolution deciding that the speaker had no right to discharge employees, and the whole subject was tabled.

Representative West offered a resolution citing that the Speaker and Representative Miller had placed the stock-yards with the Committee on corporations, thereby perpetrating an indignity on the House, and that both should be reprimanded.

It was further declared that the Speaker was an unsafe person to conduct the affairs of the House and should be deposed.

Before a discussion was possible the Senate was announced.

In joint session only one ballot was taken.

Two votes were cast, one for Logan and one for Merritt.

"O! Suffering Woman!"

C. F. B. Haskell, (formerly of Vernon, Vt.) now locating engineer on the C. & N. & N. Railroad, Dakota, stated in 1883, that his wife was utterly prostrated with female difficulties and did not seem to be amenable to physicians' remedies. She could not sleep, trembled like a leaf, periodically lost her reason. They then began the use of Warner's Safe Cure. Writing in July, 1884, from Dakota, Mr. Haskell says: "My wife has never seen the slightest inclination of a return of the difficulties Warner's Safe Cure removed." Try it, O suffering woman!

Lucas and the League.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Base ball folks say the League is inclined to make a dicker with Mr. Lucas which will end in three of the players—Shaffer, Dunlap and Sweeney—being reinstated. "President Young has done some hard work toward the settlement," said the President of a League Club to-day, "and three of the men are as good as reinstated now. Everything will be settled in a few days."

Francis L. Dow, assistant police marshal, Taunton, Mass., three years ago was cured of stone in the kidney and bladder by Warner's Safe Cure, and in June, 1884, he wrote: "I have not seen a sick day since I began Warner's Safe Cure and never felt better; have gained eighteen pounds."

Rolling Mill to Start Up.

CHICAGO, April 1.—A. W. Potter, President of the North Chicago Rolling Mill Company, announces that the mill at South Chicago will be put in full blast next Monday. Three hundred men will be put to work, making the total force 1,800 men, and the pay roll will be $100,000 per month.

New Associate Editor—Suicide.

Special to the Sentinel.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 1.—Orin H. Stein, son of Hon. John A. Stein, formerly of Kansas City, has assumed the position of associate editor of the Lafayette Morning Journal, and will enter upon his duties at once. Mr. Stein has just returned from Kansas City, where he was acquitted for two years ago. The Morning Journal will find in him a very useful assistant and able writer.

Valentine Jester, a cigar-maker, living on the corner of State and Seventh streets, hung his self in the woodshed in the rear of his residence this afternoon. He was discovered by his mother, whose piercing shrieks soon brought the whole neighborhood to the scene. He was about thirty years of age, hard working, but took to drinking very much. The cause of his suicide is unknown. The mother is nearly heart broken, and has the sympathy of the entire community.

Candle Factory Burned.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Emory candle factory, one of the largest institutions of the kind in this country, is burning. The loss will probably be very heavy.

The fire started in the eastern portion of the large structure where the candle manufacture was carried on. Two fire walls, with iron doors, divided the building into three sections. The Fire Department succeeded in confining the flames to the eastern section, except that in the cellar, an encroachment was made. This was, however, soon conquered, and the other portions of the building were saved. From a hundred to a hundred and fifty employees were engaged in this department, many of them girls, were thrown into a panic, but were all safely rescued. The loss will reach from $80,000 to $100,000, with an ample insurance. The building is very near to the entrance to the suspension bridge, leading to Covington and there was great danger at one time that it would be reached.

The Usual Statement.

CRESTLINE, O., April 1.—Stewart & Sons, proprietors of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank, have made an assignment to S. G. Cummings, of Mansfield. The Stewarts were always considered in excellent circumstances, and the failure is a great surprise to all. It is reported that all claims will be settled at an early date.

"Wonders."

E. H. Beckwith, Norwich, Conn., December 18, 1884, stated: "I owe my life to Warner's Safe Cure; when I began its use I passed ten quarts of water daily, which I retained. It per cent. of sugar; after using seven bottles my doctor pronounced me the water free from sugar; it has done wonders for me."

A Rather Doubtful Statement.

MONTREAL, April 1.—It is stated by a government official, who came here from Ottawa, that a cable message from Lord Wolseley has been received by Lord Lansdowne asking if he could get one or two regiments from Canada for service in the Sudan.

But Water Stock Pays 7 Per Cent.

CHATTANOOGA, April 1.—The Western Union Telegraph Company has reduced wages in this city 17 per cent.

Neither mental nor physical labor can be accomplished satisfactorily unless the system is in order. When you feel tired, languid, worried without exertion, the mind slow to act, and requiring great mental effort, you can rest assured that your liver is not acting properly, and that nature requires assistance to help throw off impurities. There is no remedy that will accomplish this so mildly and yet effectually as PRICKLY ASH BITTERS. A trial will satisfy you of its merits.

World's Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—The greatest and most useful show the world ever saw has only two months more to be visited and studied by the people of Europe and America. No thinking man or woman can go through the government and main building and make anything like an intelligent examination of the various articles on exhibition without getting useful information and suggestions that may lead to future profit or advantage in some way. The men who devote their energies and mental activities in devising, directing and developing such grand, practical and utilitarian schools ought to be, and will be, held in the highest esteem and admiration. About the only thing that reflects great credit on the life and character of Prince Albert is the fact that he inaugurated the World's Fair of London.

The time will come when the name of the man who planned and by his untiring energy and executive ability developed this monster fair into its present grand proportions will be placed away high up on the temple of fame and he will be recognized as a true friend of human progress and a higher civilization. But like most of the men of past ages who have devoted their hearts, minds and activity to the great work of bettering humanity, Mr. E. A. Drake, who is the real and main power in this great enterprise, is being subjected to many annoyances and unjust criticisms that narrow-minded and unthinking men can bring forward. With inadequate means he has at last triumphed over all obstacles and brought the Exposition to a grand success in everything that pertains to its main objects—a display of the world's products, and bringing together the representative men and women of all nations to study each other's methods in the great work of transforming nature's crude resources and powers into that which is better calculated to meet the important and essential demands of our existence. This is which is intended to present the workings of a new educational enterprise which was inaugurated at Lake Chautauqua, in New York, a few years ago, and which has rapidly gained a stronghold on the confidence and affections of the people where it is known. Branches of the school are being established in the Southern and other States. The one at Lake de Funik in Florida is prospering, also the at Mont Eagle, Tenn. The main object of the movement is to enable boys and girls as well as men and women to get a good substantial and even a higher education at home by their own freewill and comparatively a trifling expense. It also very appropriately combines an earnest and effective teaching of the principles of the Christian religion with the knowledge to be obtained from the study of the text book of our schools. They claim that the institution is "first for busy men and busy women in a busy age; second, that the object of Chautauqua is to make strong, pure

Christian homes where children can be raised not only in morals, but in science and patriotism." This is certainly a grandly good work, and will doubtless make many American homes better, purer, and happier. By referring to the pages of history we find that civilization has been developed not by Kings, Queens, potentates and high government authorities (for these have generally proved obstruction), but by the hard working students of nature's laws, by the inventor's genius, by the great educators, philosophers, sentiment, history, mechanics, agriculture and fine arts. Such as these have made the earth a bright and beautiful home for human beings to enjoy. In all ages and in all countries it was the plodding thinkers, philosophers, educators and inventors that developed a higher and better civilization. But we will take a rest on this subject and make a short visit to

FLORIDA.

No doubt more people came to this Exposition to see the display of fruits, plants, vegetables, grasses, cotton, sugar cane, and other products peculiar to a semi-tropical climate, than to any other one cause. At one time the friends and admirers of Florida were in despair as to the extent and value of her exhibit. But through her energetic representative General Shiring she has grandly and brightly marched to the front. The display is now worth a careful study so as to be able to properly appreciate her peculiar advantages. The sponge industry along her coast is becoming one of great profit and large extent. Nearly half a million dollars worth of sponges were shipped from the vicinity of Key West in one year.

EARLY POTATOES.

Large, well-grown Irish potatoes, egg plants, turnips, tomatoes, peas, and many other vegetables of this year's growth are on exhibition. A turnip from a Sewanee County weighs thirteen pounds. The conch pea is a wonderfully prolific specimen. One vine will cover twenty feet square and bear more peas, even on poor sandy land, than a cow can use in a month. The upland rice, which grows on sandy land, is very productive, and said by good judges to be of the best quality. Sugar cane twenty feet high and the largest ever produced, is on exhibition. This grow on the rich lands reclaimed by the drainage of Lake Okechobee. The tube rose is a profitable industry in Putnam County, where one man has 100 acres in cultivation and gets high prices for the bulbs. A specimen of couquina is on exhibition, which is Florida's main building material, and of which the oldest fort in the United States is constructed. It was commenced in the sixteenth century by the Spaniards at St. Augustine, and completed by our people in 1820. It is still in a high state of preservation, and is occupied by United States troops.

FRUITS.

Florida's display of oranges, lemons, limes, pineapples, bananas and coconuts in the Horticultural Hall is by far the best and largest in that building. The oranges are the best flavored of any in the World's Exposition. The sweetest juiciest, and in many respects the finest, I ever saw. Florida is now ahead on fruits, flowers, plants and early vegetables.

Lifted Up

A happy surprise it was to Mr. A. R. Norton, of Bristol, Conn., when ATHLOPHOROS put him on his feet, and sent him cheerfully about his business. Let him tell his own story:

"About three weeks ago I was taken with a severe crick in the back. For four days I was unable to turn in bed without help, and when lifted up could not stand on my feet. I was induced to try ATHLOPHOROS, after the usual remedies failed. In 20 minutes after taking the first dose I could bear my weight upon my feet. In two days I was able to get about and attend to business. In two other cases which have come to my knowledge its use has been attended with the same results."

A poor man in Philadelphia had to borrow a dollar to buy a bottle of ATHLOPHOROS. On account of his poverty his name shall remain a secret. He had suffered terribly from Rheumatism. He gratefully writes:

"I took my first dose Tuesday afternoon, and on Wednesday, after but seven doses, I had not a sharp or severe ache left. Then I reduced the dose one-half and took the remainder of the bottle. I was able to be steady at work till Saturday, when I took a severe cold and was unable to use my left hand. I purchased another bottle and by bedtime I found relief. The medicine is all you claim for it."

Investigate ATHLOPHOROS all you please! Find all the fault you choose with it and yet the fact remains, that it is doing what no other medicine ever could do for Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.
